Girl Band in the Men’s Room - 1st Nourse Lounge
By Robert Ford
Directed by Martin Miller

4 Women (one with a French accent)
A darkly comic look at a grunge band on the verge. The big-label, big-dollar contract is on the table, but Kurt Cobain just committed suicide, and Rachel -- the conscience of this band -- is deeply suspicious of what it all means. Will the rest of the band convince her to sign? The playwright will be flown in to work with the cast.

Lone Star - Nourse Little Theater
By James McClure
Directed by Naysan Mojgani

3 Men
Roy, a brawny, macho type, is back in town after a hitch in Vietnam. Joined by his younger brother, Ray, Roy sets about consuming a case of beer while regaling Ray with tales of his exploits. As the underpinnings of Roy’s world begin to collapse, the high good humor of the play never lapses, and all ends as breezily and happily as it began.

Hit ‘n Run (Fall One-Acts)
The Golden Fleece
By A.R. Gurney
Directed by Michael Sterling

1 Man, 1 Woman (possible extra roles)
The story of that famous infanticidist Medea, told from the point of view of two of her friends.

The Lesson
By Eugene Ionesco
Directed by Sophie Kerman

1 Man, 2 Women
A comic drama. Innocent pupil goes to lesson, lesson goes disturbingly wrong. With a large dose of absurdity, a few tablespoons of sadomasochism, and a side order of political commentary.

The Vibrating Organ - 2nd Nourse Lounge
By Masataka Matsuda
Directed and translated by Grace Goh

3 Men, 2 Women
Words at the edge of comprehension, imagery in flux. Set in a surreal, make believe world, this play seeks to explore an inner world that hides itself in plain sight, wrapped in the elusive language of a dream. The script is an original translation from Japanese and a work in progress.

Laundry and Bourbon - Nourse Little Theater
By James McClure
Directed by Max Leibowitz

3 Women (Southern accents preferable)
On a hot summer afternoon, three Texas women pass the time folding laundry, watching TV, sipping bourbon and Coke and gossiping about the many open secrets which are so much a part of small town life. This comedy paints a portrait of three vulnerable and complicated women who find sustenance in each other, their families, and a little Laundry and Bourbon.

Tunnel of Love
By Jacquelyn Reingold
Directed by Rachel Teagle

4 Women, 2 Men
A zany, naughty farce. A woman born without a vagina is on a quest to get one, confronting the paradoxes of womanhood, a stream of appropriately named specialists (Dr. Muffin, Dr. Beaver, Dr. Snatch, and Dr. Too-lips), and an overly honest boyfriend.

4-6 PM
Friday, September 16th
Saturday, September 17th

All are welcome. No preparation, experience, or signup required.